World Call Index 1964

THIS detailed index has been prepared for persons who have occasion to refer to authors, articles, and photographic illustrations in World Call, Volume XLVI (January-December 1964). All listings are combined in one alphabetical index.

The name of a person is listed with a notation as to whether he is the author or the subject of an article. All articles, stories, poems, etc., are also listed according to topic of discussion.

Photographic illustrations are indicated as follows:

il This appears after the name of an article and means that it is illustrated. For example:

INDIA: What's Ahead for India? Warner Muir. il Ma 19

(Explanation: An illustrated article on the subject INDIA, entitled "What's Ahead for India?" written by Warner Muir, will be found in the May issue on page 19.)

il por This means that the article by or about that person is illustrated and the illustrations include a picture of the author or of the person about whom the article is written. For example:

BEAZLEY, George G., Jr. (author) Ecumenical Journey. il por D 21

(Explanation: An illustrated article by George G. Beazley, Jr., entitled "Ecumenical Journey," has a picture of the author and may be found in the December issue on page 21.

por This means that the article by or about the person is illustrated only with a portrait of the author or of the person about whom the article is written. For example:

KESTER, Howard (about): Presenting Howard Kester. J. Edward Moseley por Mr 8

(Explanation: An article about Howard Kester, illustrated only by a portrait of Mr. Kester, entitled "Presenting Howard Kester," written by J. Edward Moseley, will be found in the March issue on page 8.)

(about) This refers to something related to the individual personally or an event in which he was involved along with others.
